Editors Gather at Johnson's Resort

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR 2 DAY OUTING

Michigan newspaper editors will be quite busy this week while the latter and their families enjoy a three-day outing at Johnson's Rustic Resort at Houghton Lake.

The outing begins today and continues to Sunday morning. Early registrations indicated a large attendance and it is expected that there will be about 300 present.

Outside of a program of brief addresses Thursday night, the time is scheduled for all kinds of entertainment and pleasures. This is a time when the pencil pushers just don't work, and everything in the usual course of an editor's duty is going to be forgotten.

Frank R. Johnson, owner of the resort is doing everything possible to make the visit of the newspaper folk a pleasant one. In 1927 Michigan publishers and their families enjoyed a similar outing at this popular place, and its selection again this summer met with popular acclaim.

If you don't see anything of the Schumann family during the rest of the week, you'll know the reason why. Au revoir.

FARM CREDIT ADMN. LOANS TO COUNTY

Rufus W. Card, secretary-treasurer of the production credit association has received word from S. M. Garwood, Production Credit Commissioner of the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D. C., that about $25,000,000 in production loans and approvals has already been granted through associations and that the volume of loans is expected to increase as the season advances.

"A part of this money has been paid out in Crawford county," Mr. Card said. "From its office in West Branch the association is now making an increasing number of loans to farmers in Crawford, Oscoda, Alcona, Roscommon, Ogemaw, Iosco, and Gladwin counties, for the purpose of growing crops and for purchasing work-stock and farming supplies for the season's operations. The loans are made on crop and chattel security."

"A number of the loans are being made on the installment basis," Mr. Card added. "An applicant's loan may be approved in the full amount, but paid out in installments as needed during the season, the object being to enable the borrower to save on interest costs and be sure of having the money when he needs it throughout the season to finish his crops or livestock operations. The interest rate on loans, recently reduced to 5 1/2 per cent per annum, is charged only for the time the money is being used and payable when the loan is due. Some farmers are saving from 1/4 to 1/2 on interest costs by getting loans on an installment basis."

"Another new feature of the production loans allows a farmer or stockman to apply for a loan and establish a line of credit which is used to make cash purchases of livestock or work-stock, the association taking a chattel mortgage on the stock purchased as part of the security for the loan."

"The association was organized under the Farm Credit Administration to be a permanent source of agricultural and livestock credit for this section," Mr. Card said, "and it now has facilities capable of fulfilling that purpose."

DECKROW-SWIGER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford D. Palmer when Miss Velma Swiger and Mr. Hurl Deckrow, brother of Mrs. Palmer, were united in marriage.

At nine o'clock the bridegroom and Mr. Norval Stephan, as best man, took their places beside tall baskets of flowers in a room nicely decorated in pale blue and pink.

"I love you truly" was beautifully sung by Mrs. June Underwood and to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bride and her attendants entered. Little Beverly Barratt, flower girl, very sweet in pale blue organdy carrying a basket of flower-petals.

The bride, lovely in pale blue chiffon with white accessories, carried a shower bouquet of snapdragons and forget-me-nots. Mrs. Roy Barratt, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, was attired in pale blue silk organdy with white net. Mrs. Norval Stephan, bridesmaid, wore a shell pink organdy with matching hat. Both carried arm bouquets of carnations and snapdragons. The ring service was used by Rev. H. J. Salmon, pastor of Michelson Memorial church, was lovely and impressive. The recessional was played by Mrs. Underwood while the party retired to be greeted by their many friends.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake was served to nearly sixty guests while the bride cut the beautiful, three tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink rosebuds, guarded by tall blue and white tapers.

Many nice presents were received and admired.

Guests from out of town were: Mrs. Roy Barratt and daughter Beverly; Herbert E. Oaks, Miss Margaret Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Ingalls, Clarence Ingalls, Miss Julia Wright, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wilcox, West Branch; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jorgensen, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sawyer, Pontiac; Harry Linger, Bay City.

The groom is the youngest son of Frank R. Deckrow and has lived here all his life. The young couple have the congratulations and best wishes of their many friends.

SCHOOL NOTES

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL

Winners of respective leagues in the spring baseball games are as follows:

In kickball the Tigers nosed out the Giants in the final game by one score to become champions of the Junior Girls League. Following were members of the Tigers: Captain, Beattie Askins; Kathryn Carr, R. Bielaki, J. Entaminger, J. Morris, M. Malloy, A. Bradow, D. Atwell, M. Kalka, K. Charron, M. Ruthowski, L. Newell, M. Casper and E. Bugby.

In the Boys Junior League the clever Tigers were the champs. The Senators led by Junior Lovely, finished second. Members of the Tigers: Captain, Bud Wiseman; K. VanCamp, A. Tibbette, M. Nelson, P. Kalka, D. Corwin, W. Nelson, J. Mathews, A. Andrus, R. Harrison, D. Daniels, J. Woods, G. Barger and B. Stock.

In the Seniors Girls League Eva Mae Bugby's baseball team easily won from Monica Hewitt's. The Senior Boys League ended in a tie between Lovely's and Hanson's clubs.

Four Hurt In Auto Accident

Saturday evening one man and three children were injured in an auto accident that occurred six miles north of Frederic. The injured were Floyd Schneider and son Jack of Boyne City and the two children of Walter Loper. All received bad bruises and cuts and were brought to Grayling Mercy Hospital to have their wounds dressed and Mr. Schneider remained until Tuesday while the others were dismissed the following day.

The accident happened when Mrs. Loper driving her car got off the road and trying to get back on the pavement her car swerved in front of the oncoming car driven by Mr. Schneider. In his car was wife and son Jack and in the Loper car besides Mrs. Loper was Mr. Loper and their two children.

Charges of negligently operating a motor vehicle and driving without a license were placed against Mrs. Loper and her husband, Walter Loper, is charged with allowing an unlicensed driver to operate a motor car, accident occurring therefrom. The case will probably be held this afternoon.

The Schneider family were on their way to Grayling to visit the Maurice Gorman family when the accident happened. Mrs. Schneider is a sister of Mr. Gorman.

WHO REMEMBERS THE BIG FIRE?

Alice Brink Hyatt, society reporter for the Bay City Daily Times, recently called our attention to the following item in the files of that paper of 40 years ago:

"Grayling on the Mackinac division of the Michigan Central was visited by a disastrous fire this morning at 2 o'clock and telegrams for help were sent to this city. Two fire steamers were placed on scene to fight the fire when word came that the fire was under control. Two million feet of lumber belonging to Salling, Hanson and company, valued at $50,000 and four dwellings were destroyed. The late train from Bay City going north was blasted in passing the fire, the heat being intense. The origin of the fire is unknown."

Here is the story of the fire as taken from the files of the Avalanche July 5th, 1934:

About two o'clock Tuesday morning we were again aroused by the cry of fire, which was found to be in the center of the extensive lumber yard of Salling, Hanson & Co., and was without doubt the work of an incendiary.

The fire department was promptly on the ground and did herculean work, as did hundreds of our citizens; though, as usually the case there were scores of shirkers.

Bay City and Cheboygan were telegraphed for aid, and reported promptly, but were stopped en route, as by five o'clock the fire was under control.

But a rough estimate can be given at this time of the loss, and the amount of insurance cannot yet be ascertained. The losses are:

Salling Hanson & Co., lumber $40,000.00
Louis Rivets, dwelling... 500.00
Joe. Montour, dwelling... 500.00
P. Ramsson, dwelling... 500.00
Chris Peterson, dwelling 500.00
At one time it seemed as though the entire yard, with the larger sawmill and the planing mill must go, but the firemen fought every inch, and a row of piles was removed across the yard, at which point the flames were stayed.

An incendiary fire was discovered between three and four o'clock in the wooded area of Mr. Carnoy. A broom had been saturated with kerosene, ignited into a pile of chips and but for timely discovery would have destroyed his residence, as all the hose, and men were at the lumber yard fire. There seems to be no clue as to the perpetrators.

Torontakes Kill Birds
Large tarantulas are said to have the ability to catch and kill birds, but most scientists deny their power to kill a human being, although a bite from one is very painful.

Smaller tarantulas, native to the southwestern United States are declared not only to be entirely harmless to man but beneficial, because they feed on insects that are destructive to crops.

Let's Have The Truth

There are thousands of Michigan citizens who would be willing to bear testimony that not all the bank-receivership racketeers were confined to the larger cities. Now that Governor Comstock has decided to open the door to a sweeping investigation the depositors should unite in demanding to know just how much of their impounded funds went to pay excessive attorney's fees and fat receivership salaries and expenses. They should insist on being informed whether these closed institutions were kept, and are being kept, closed, in order to prolong the milking process which we are confident in many cases descended into plain legalized racketeering. Honestly conducted receiverships will have nothing to fear from such an investigation—others are not entitled to have it concealed. There has been ugly stories floating about Michigan for a long time and now is the hour for searching inquiry. We shall be interested in watching just how deep the probing iron is going to be jabbed into the entire mess.

Chaplain's Weekly News Letter

Fourth Parsonage District

The past week the following camps rated 100% in church attendance: Pioneer, Hartwick Pines, Au Sable and Fire Lake.

The best hymn singing is done at Pioneer with Au Sable a close second. Au Sable has recently produced a new piano which has a lot.

681 is fortunate in having two ensembles who can play the piano well (Carpenter and Fowler). Maybe, among the new men coming in, the other camps will be able to garner someone who can "tickle the ivories."

Statistics show that only 1% of all the inmates in prisons can play a musical instrument of any kind. The inference is that musical ability is found among men of a higher type morally and mentally.

If this is true there should be good material for orchestras or pipe clubs in each camp for the CCC. The musical ability of the CCC rates comparatively high.

Soft-ball scores for June 17 were as follows: Higgins 9, Au Sable 8; Fire Lake 16, Houghton Lake 6; Pines 5, Pioneer 3. So far Higgins is the only team that has not been beaten. 673 walked off with the basketball trophy—will it take the baseball honors as well?

Many new men are coming in—many old ones are going out with in the next week or two. Hall and Farewell! The Chaplain will miss the old familiar faces as he holds service. He has appreciated the courteous attention given his humble efforts to make religion a real and vital factor in the everyday life of the enrollee. He wishes the outgoing men God's blessing and hopes that he will soon be launched successfully in his chosen vocation whatever it may be. Almost every camp is giving a farewell dinner or party.

File Lake had one last Friday, Hartwick Pines will have one next Wednesday consisting of a banquet at 6 P. M., three one-act plays at 7:30 and then a dance at 9. Higgins Lake and Houghton have scheduled theirs for Thursday, June 28. Au Sable had theirs two weeks ago.

Educator Holland reports a revival of interest in the program at Hartwick Pines. More and more boys are asking for instruction in penmanship, spelling, history, and arithmetic. Even a course in photography has been asked for. A program in land-scaping under the direction of Supt. Saunders is almost completed. Trees and shrubs have been planted, the camp area covered with sod and a water system installed which will be available for watering the grass, and useful in case of fire. Much white paint has been used on the interior of the bathhouse and hospital. Lt. Wahlhorn has had a hardwood floor laid in the kitchen for hygienic and decorative reasons. The camp now has a fine indoor diamond and a valley ball court.

Willows Produce Heavy Water
The weeping willow tree produces heavy water. The tree's roots draw in ordinary water. In the course of growth the tree breaks this water into its hydrogen and oxygen atoms.

Grayling Defeats Roscommon 16-9

Blackie's Blackbirds added Roscommon to their string of victories Sunday, June 24, to the tune of 16-9. Although out-hit by our southern neighbors, clever base running and stealing bewildered the Ramblers to such an extent that Grayling scored in the first, second, fourth, sixth and eighth innings.

Led by Jimmie Post, the Blackbird's flashy second baseman, the Grayling boys managed to push three tallies on one hit, across the plate in the first inning. Jimmie managed to get on base each trip to the plate, the first two times by virtue of errors, the third and last times by blasting out two doubles, the fourth time on a walk and singing his fifth trip.

The game was just one dust cloud after another. Each time some player would move, so would perhaps a bushel of clay dust. There was no chance of wetting the diamond because the fifth inning had begun before anything to wet ones whistler made its appearance in a Conservation Dept. fish can.

Pond started the game for the Blackbirds and was well on his way to an easy victory when in the fourth inning with two runners on base, Keith, Roscommon's third sacker leaned into one of Pond's fast ones and tickets the ball for extra bases but Pond grabs the ball with his bare hand, knocking it down and keeping it from going to the outfield. The next batter was taken care of by May and Holcomb, retiring the side. Pond's hand bothered him in the fifth inning and he had trouble finding the plate; when he did it was right through the center. In this inning they scored two of the four runs made off Pond. Blackie sent Jake Baginski (Camp 874) to the mound at the start of the sixth frame. Jake sailed thru the sixth and seventh but the Ramblers staged a rally in the eighth inning, netting five runs. Capt. Bidle pitched the ninth, setting the side down in order.

An agreement had been reached at the scheduling of the game whereby Grayling was to receive one-half of the gate receipts. It was necessary to drive through the park in order to see the game and park your car. At the end of the 7th inning there were 32 cars at the field. Allowing 3 cars for each team, leaves 26 cars. The admission was 10c per person. The question is how did all the cars get there when the gate receipts totaled $178. Some 30 must have got a two cent discount and 8 cars must have been left there the Sunday before or again it may be a used car lot. Blackie is planning on buying each player a bat with Grayling's half.

Thursday evening the old-timers and youngsters are clashing at the local diamond. Come out and enjoy the evening. You're bound to see everything from strikeouts to home runs. Watch the old-timers play with all the old pep. Reason: One Keg of Beer to the winner.

Pahmi Fer
The pahmi is a small animal of the weasel family, an inhabitant of central China. The fur is there for a nature-fur. It is sometimes called the Chinese marten. The pah is heavy, with a bright yellow and silky underfur, the top hair being grayish brown. A white line runs down the back from the neck to the tail and one along each side.

Grayling to have Recreational Program

Grayling like many other cities is to have a Recreational and Educational program, made possible through the S. E. R. A. This program, which will cover eight weeks, is to be supervised and directed by Mr. Frank Bond, assisted by Mr. Gerald Poor, and Miss Elaine Reagan and there is to be another man assistant chosen.

All school children are eligible to enroll and this also includes the graduating class of this year. Monday the program began and Tuesday children were enrolled at the school building. Athletics of all forms, swimming, tap dancing or any other activity a child may suggest will be included. These activities are organized and intended for school children in order to maintain and promote physical health and moral in learning to use idle time constructively and wholesomely.

This is a valuable opportunity for the youngsters and it is hoped there will be an enrollment of 250 or more.

The funds for this is provided by the Federal and State governments and it was approved by Mrs. Laura Olson, local E. R. A. administrator.

Camp Higgins

Roger Holton from Northport has taken a discharge from this organization to accept employment on a golf course at his home town.

Capt. Betts, district commander, spent most of last week in Chicago on leave. His family will spend the summer in this vicinity. During Capt. Betts' absence, Capt. G. E. Murphy attended to the duties of district commander.

Earl Hodgins and Rudy Harrison of this company were on the boxing program Monday night at the Gaylord Outdoor Festival.

A new class in elementary book-keeping started Monday night as a part of the educational program. Final classes in geology and forestry will be held this week under supervision of Raymond Taggart.

Paul Hendrickson, an enrollee from Grayling, with an assistant leader's rating, is understudy for mess sergeant. Fred Rowe, regular mess sergeant, and Farrell Robinson, cook, were away on leave most of the week.

Nearly 60 CCC's will be discharged from this company shortly because of the ruling limiting enrollments to a one year period.

COMPLAINTS about dogs are numerous and the canine is coming in for a lot of denunciation these days. And who can blame one when he finds his garden ridged by dogs, or other damage done? Just which is the most important—that the dogs have free reign and are permitted to continue their destructive rampages over our property, or shall good citizens, who work and toil to put in gardens and flowers, and to beautify their yards, have to see them destroyed? Which is the most deserving—that the dogs have their ways, or that people have their ways? Dogs are wonderful animals and people generally are very fond of their pets. And a boy who has to grow up without having enjoyed the company of a dog has missed a lot. But that is no reason why people should have to endure them when they become nuisances. A drive of dogs dominated the vegetable and flower gardens near the hospital recently and we understand were very destructive. And dogs in droves in our downtown streets with their fighting and mauling, are disgusting. Nobody wants to see anyone's dog killed, but on the other hand if they are allowed to molest people, they should be disposed of some way. Owners can easily keep their dogs tied up by having the leash ring slide either direction on a long wire. It's about time some attention is being given the dog control, and to relieve humans from their depredations.

LOCAL PASTOR RETURNS FROM CAMP MEETING

Rev. Grabbill and wife returned Monday evening from camp meeting near Cheboygan and reported an enthusiastic and successful gathering of both ministry and laity from ten different churches besides visitors from outside the district.

Some leading features of the meeting were as follows: Weather conditions for the most part were ideal for the time of year. Sometimes it was cool enough for an overcoat and artificial heat in the tents. At other times it was too warm for comfort no matter which way you turned. Three days of the tent saw plentiful rainfall and the farmers were feeling very well pleased. All growing crops were looking fine. The capacity of the tabernacle was pretty well taxed nearly every evening and the preaching of the special evangelist, A. F. Hawood, was delightful and able as it came freighted with the power divine to bring sinners and others under deep conviction for their sins and shortcomings. The old-fashioned mourners' bench was a busy place at the close of nearly every service and it was the chief delight of the workers to see those who came as mourners return peaceful and happy, and "in the language" of the Psalmist, see their mouths filled with laughter and their tongues with singing. The crowds to many of whom such scenes and sounds were new, seemed never to tire of looking and listening, sometimes till far into the night.

The congregational singing and especially the special singing by quartettes demonstrated that this people needs no instrumental accompaniment in producing harmony and melody in their worship. Friday was missionary day and while young people and juniors had a part in the program, a returned missionary from South Africa was the principal speaker, both afternoon and evening. The finances were well and readily provided by free-will offerings.

Special men's white caps—free with each pair of white oxords from now until the 4th. Olsons.

GRANGE NOTES

A baking contest sponsored by Michigan State Grange and The Michigan Patron, winners to compete in a contest at Midland in October, is interesting Grange members, who are to have entries in the several classes on display and for sale on Saturday, July 14. Breads, cakes and cookies are to be tried and passed on by three judges.

Have you helped your side win the membership contest? July 1 is the last date to have your name in.

News Briefs

John Michelson of Detroit spent the week end at the Michelson cottage at Lake Margrethe and on his return was accompanied by his mother Mrs. A. E. Michelson who will return late for the summer.

The Sunday school of Michelson Memorial church enjoyed its annual picnic yesterday at the State park at Osquo Lake. Although the skies were cloudy during the forenoon, the day turned out to be an ideal one for a picnic, and everyone enjoyed it very much.

Mrs. Matilda Bishop and son Douglas, of Cleveland, Miss Gertrude Foley and Philip Boucher of Grosse Ile arrived Thursday morning to visit the ladies' mother Mrs. William Foley. Mrs. Bishop and Douglas and Miss Foley will probably remain for the summer.

Mr. Floyd B. Quigg, wife and baby, of Chicago, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George McCullough. The ladies are relatives. Mr. Quigg is on the editorial staff of the American Lumberman, and is making a trip thru the Upper Peninsula and lower Michigan in the interest of his publication.

Andrew Barber won first place in the State Fair Boys School contest and Roy Hartman won second place. Andrew is a son of Ross Barber and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Charley of Beaver Creek with whom he makes his home. Roy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hartman of Eldorado.

Word from Congressman Roy O. Woodruff and Michael J. Harvannounces that Grayling's waterworks proposition is up for final passage and "looks favorable," they say. The project is most deserving of passage and we trust it will be approved and that the new system will become a certainty before next winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jerome of Lansing were at their summer home at Lake Margrethe over the week end. Miss Betty Jerome left Saturday for Denver, Colorado to attend a convention of the Alpha Phi sorority to which she was a delegate from the Michigan State college chapter. The Jerome family will return the last of the week to remain for the summer.

Recently Finland celebrated the anniversary of its independence and the local Finns numbering some forty people to also celebrate the occasion enjoyed a picnic. It was held last Sunday at what is called the "pull over" on the AuSable. They feasted and were merry and all had a jolly time. It is some 25 years since some of these Finnish families first settled in Grayling, and they are now among Grayling's most substantial residents.

Call at Parsons & Wakeley for used tires. Phone 96F12 for boats, baits and minnows. Collins Resort. For fancy baked goods keep in mind the Eastern Star bake sale on June 30.

Relatives enjoyed a visit from Rev. Alfred E. Sarason, of Seattle, Washington, from Thursday to Monday. On Sunday he occupied the pulpit at the Danish Lutheran church, taking Rev. Juhl's place who was gone for the day. He left Monday evening for Greenville where he will visit Rev. Kildegaard for a few days.

Five members of the Eastern Star motored to Cheboygan yesterday and spent the day visiting a sister member and old friend Mrs. John Burt. They took a pot luck dinner along and surprised Mrs. Burt, Mrs. Charles Fehr, Mrs. Mary Connine, Mrs. William McNeven, Mrs. Joseph McLeod, and Miss Grace Nelson made the trip.

Joseph Letzkus, aged 53 years, died late Saturday at his home in Bay City after a short illness. He was well known in Grayling having been employed at the flooring mill for a number of years before leaving for Bay City where he has made his home for the past nineteen years. Surviving are his widow, the former Goldie Pond, daughter Margaret and two brothers, William of Chicago, and J. W. Letzkus, of Compton, Calif.

Members of the Eastern Star gave Mrs. Margaret Burton a pleasant surprise last Friday evening at the home of her brother Clayton Straehly, it being her birthday anniversary. There was about 15 present and as Mrs. Straehly would be celebrating her birthday on June 30 they presented her both with gifts. Cards and visiting made the evening pass all too quickly. Mrs. Burton recently came from Monroe to be here for the summer.

Mrs. Lee Peterson is visiting friends in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lydel and Norma Lydel are in Traverse City over the week end.

Free white cap free with each pair of white oxords from now until the 4th at Olsons.

Crawford County Board of Supervisors have been in session since Monday at the Court house.

Mrs. Clara Olson visited friends in Grayling Saturday enroute to Harbor Springs.

Alfred Stratton, Detroit, and Lewis Pray of Clawson are visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. Pray.

After spending a week at his home here Earl Clarke returned to Mt. Pleasant to attend C.S.T. college for the summer term.

Mrs. Herbert Wood, Mrs. Halford Kittleman and daughter Kathryn Ann, Mrs. J. Joseph, Mrs. Harold Cliff and Mrs. C. R. Keyport are spending today in Petoskey.

Mrs. John Doherty, Mrs. Harry Holmes and two sons of West Branch were guests at the Joseph McLeod home Friday, coming to attend the graduation of Billy McLeod.

Harry McEvers was fined $5.00 and costs for being drunk and disorderly Saturday evening. Clinton Bankraft arrested on the same charge was committed to the county jail for ten days, being unable to pay.

George Land, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell and daughter Mary Lee of Kalamazoo spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McCullough.

They were accompanied by Georgianna, Jean and Mary Jane Land who will spend the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. McCullough.

Miss Eva Johnson, daughter of William Johnson of Frederic and Roy Papenfus, son of Mrs. Lola Papenfus of Lovell, were united in marriage Friday morning at the M. E. parsonage, Rev. H. J. Sorenson officiating. The couple were attended by Miss Norma Madill of Frederic and Charles Papenfus of Eldorado, brother of the groom.

Patsy Hope Hurd made a pleasing little hostess to 15 of her friends yesterday forenoon when she celebrated her 15th birthday. Five baskets of cake in which were hidden favors, place cards, napkins and a birthday cake, all in pink made a most lunch table.

Joan Montour, Jean Morris, Gainstore Trudeau and Sally McClain were winners of most prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Cripps of Detroit visited a few days last week with the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Clise. They went home Friday and Mr. Clise and granddaughter Bonnie Joan Wakeley returned with them for an extended visit. Mrs. Clise went as far as Sterling to visit her sister who is quite seriously ill for a couple of weeks.

William Sider of Saginaw was arrested last week for carelessly setting fire to some grass and leaves in South Branch township, whereby the property of another was destroyed. He was brought before Justice Hans Petersen by G. A. Linsom of the Federal Forest Service in Mio and was fined $25.00 and costs. Fine was remitted owing to it not being a willful act.

Mrs. Ragnus Hanson, Mrs. Margrethe Graham and Esbern Hanson, Jr. motored to Saginaw today. On their return this evening they will be accompanied by Miss Virginia Hanson of New York City. Miss Virginia had been spending the past week in Detroit, where she was a bridesmaid at the Loud-Ewald wedding yesterday. Miss Shirley Ewald and Miss Virginia were classmates at Vassar College.

Last Thursday afternoon 21 members of "Our Gang" were warmly welcomed by Mrs. William Williams at Mrs. Albert Knibbs was a guest. The afternoon was spent in talking and playing tennis. Prizes were given to Mrs. Desney, Mrs. Mrs. Sherman Neal, Mr. Henry Hayes, Mrs. Laura Parker, Mrs. Andrew Beck, and Mrs. Charles Corwin. Mrs. George Lutz was the recipient of the Pennie prize. The next meeting will be a June birthday party for the members whose birthdays come this month. Mrs. George Lutz will make the birthday cake. Mrs. George Woods will be the hostess.

A nuptial wedding of June 16th was that of Miss Ruth Mack and William Foley, both of Grayling. The marriage ceremony was performed in Gaylord by the Rev. Shugge. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson of Gaylord were the attendants. Mrs. Foley is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Mack of N. Chestnut street, and is a graduate of Grayling high school. Mr. Foley is a son of Mrs. William Foley and is also a graduate of Grayling High. Mr. Foley attended Michigan State College at Lansing, and is a member of the Theta Kappa Nu fraternity. He is now in the employ of the State Department of Conservation. Their friends extend congratulations and wish them a happy wedded journey thru life.

Lieut. J. S. Tennery, commanding officer of this company, visited camp one day last week, arriving in an army plane from Selfridge Field. His visit at the headquarters office was brief, but just to entertain those about camp he gave a short exhibition of stunt flying that proved thrilling and aroused enthusiasm among the enrollees for aviation.

A class in elementary book-keeping started Wednesday night of this week. Instruction of this course is designed for those who have had limited training in book-keeping or none at all, and wish to understand the fundamentals.

It costs about thirty-eight cents a day to feed a man in this company at the present time.

Enrollee Kenneth Sibley has taken a discharge from the CCC to accept employment in Muskegon, his home town.

Hereafter all enrollees are forbidden to have cars in or near camp. This is a general order that applies to all camps and is not just local in its application. Previous to now local experienced men were permitted limited use of cars.

About 30 will be discharged from this company shortly, which marks the end of a one-year enrollment period for them.

Forty-six books were checked out of the library by enrollees during a recent seven-day period, with no particular effort being made to encourage their reading.

Lieut. J. S. Tennery, commanding officer, has received a six-months extension on his tour of duty, which will keep him on CCC work until January 17, 1935.

CAMP PIONEER

Lieut. Slatter, formerly commanding officer of this company, visited camp one day last week, arriving in an army plane from Selfridge Field. His visit at the headquarters office was brief, but just to entertain those about camp he gave a short exhibition of stunt flying that proved thrilling and aroused enthusiasm among the enrollees for aviation.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends, who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement in the death of our beloved son and grandson, Wilbur Scott Stroup. Also to Rev. Salmon for his comforting words and to the funeral directors, Sorenson and Son for their kindness.

LOG OFFICE

The East Michigan 1934 Tourist Guide and Blue Book of Recommended Hotels, Clubs and Cottages is now being distributed from the Log Office by extra clerks, made necessary by the large number of inquiries being received. Done in a blue-black color scheme, the Guide contains forty-eight pages and cover. It is illustrated by more than one hundred photographs of East Michigan scenes. The size is the same as in former years. Each booklet is accompanied by a State highway map.

Distinct in its informative treatment of the region as opposed to booklets published purely to create interest, the Guide represents almost every county in East Michigan. However due to lack of co-operation by certain counties the board of directors authorized those counties to be omitted. The book contains much detailed information which the prospective visitor wants. The association aims to produce a book that portrays East Michigan's recreational appeal, at the same time giving the information it knows from the letters received, is desired by those who in answer to the advertising write for facts and details about East Michigan.

To the N. R. A., with its limitations on the number of hours a printer is allowed to work, is attributed the delay in publication. Those seeking early information, however, received a state highway map and one of the 45,000 folders issued to bridge the gap prior to publication.

The 30,000 copies printed weigh about six tons. Mailing this number of copies is no small chore and requires extra clerks; while paying postage on six tons required real cash since Uncle Sam has not yet placed the Association on a credit basis.

The first copy of the Guide was mailed to Eddie Guent, since his poem "Rest Days" is again reproduced.

Mr. Guent is a personal friend of Secretary Marston. He has always been sympathetic to the association, and long ago gave permission to use this poem.

Headed by the Alpena Band and its large delegation of townsmen, the celebration of the opening of the road between East Tawas and Oscoda was attended by many representatives. Three bands—from East Tawas, Oscoda, and Thunder Bay town—supplied the music for the 1500 spectators who heard several inspiring talks from state highway delegates, Bay City Commissioners and East Michigan enthusiasts.

A fine spirit of cooperation was exhibited by all in attendance.

For the second time, Johnson's Rustic Tavern Resort on the South Shore of Houghton Lake will be the scene of the Michigan Press Convention to be held June 28-29-30. The Journalists list on their program three days crammed with recreation and sport.

FAITHLESS IN LOVE—FAITHLESS IN CRIME

An article divulging how a baffling murder mystery was solved when police questioned a woman who betrayed her husband—then her lover, will appear in The American Weekly with The Sunday Times of July 1.

GOOD GUESS

"What's that picture on the wall?" "It's a picture of a man who was once a very good guess." "What's that?" "It's a picture of a man who was once a very good guess." "What's that?" "It's a picture of a man who was once a very good guess."

MAMMA KNOWS

Bill Collector—Your husband is the hardest man to get money out of that I've ever met. Wife—That's what I'm always tellin' him.

STRIKER OUT!

"My son is making a record at college." "Good, science or classics?" "Neither. He's such a baseball fan that he's been released from all routine study."

WAS HIS FACE RED?

Flat Hunter—That apartment building may be as quiet as a church but what kind of a janitor have you? Landlord—In that building we have no janitor. We have a sexton.

PROGRESSIVE KID

"How's your kid about school?" "Very ambitious. He wants to get so he can figure the baseball percentage for himself."

HER FEELINGS

"How did you feel at the fashionable wedding?" "About as conspicuous as my pickle dish looked among the jeweled bronzes and ropes of pearls."

FIND THE PATCHES

"How'd you patch it up and get married?" "Zee—and have to be patching the rest of my life."

Masayaf Ruins, in Syria.

Reveal Story of Plunder

In the Ansariya foothills north-east of the port of Tripoli, in Syria, stand the crumbling ruins of a stronghold that was neither Christian nor Moslem, but was one of the most notorious in the world—the castle of Masayaf, once an abode of the Old Man of the Mountain.

He was really the Shaikh al-Jabal, or Chieftain of the Hills, called by the Moslems "the Lord of the Portals of Death." He was, in fact, a true lord of misrule because he was one of the heads of the Assassins, order of Ismailites, or Assassins, according to the National Geographic society.

"The tales told of these Assassins," an Arab chronicler relates, "would turn the hair of a new-born baby gray."

The secret brotherhood of Assassins came into being in the Eleventh century, originating in the streets of Cairo and spreading swiftly eastward as far as Persia. Enemies of the master of the order were removed from his path by the daggers of his drug-inflamed assassins, and his followers were rewarded by a visit to a truly remarkable artificial paradise of wine, women and song, built on the summit of a mountain back of Kazvin, in northern Persia.

Legends relate that the Old Man of the Mountain never ate or slept, and that he could pass in and out of his mountain stronghold without being seen. With a few men lodged in an eyrie secretly built or purchased, he could lay a city under bondage of fear. Many a wealthy merchant of that day awoke in the morning to find two rolls of bread, the visiting card of the assassin, by his head. And usually he decided to pay tribute without further visitation.

Feather Fan is Oldest

Made in Ancient China

The feather fan, says the Chicago Field Museum, represents the oldest form of fan made by the ancient Chinese, and is characteristic of the culture area of northern China, while the palm-leaf fan was invented in southern China and is still principally used there.

In making the feather fans the quills of wild geese, heron, hawks and peacocks are used. The gauze fans are usually mounted in rings of bamboo or other wood, or ivory. The folding fan was probably invented in Corea, and has been known in China from the Eleventh century onward.

First restricted to the demimonde, the folding fan soon became fashionable among women generally, just as many other fashions had their origin in the half-world. In China fans are equally used by both sexes, those for men being larger and having particular forms. Fans with complimentary poems inscribed upon them are given to friends as we send various forms of greeting cards.

Turkey Fish of Fiji

A freak among fishes, the turkey fish of Fiji, is not all that its name implies. This fish is a three-finned flame-colored fellow with inch-long eyebrows that protrude from the top of its ugly head in such a way that they seem to be continually raised in a sort of a high-brow manner to the lesser members of the finny world upon which it looks down with an overpowering sense of arrogance. The turkey fish is well equipped to keep all others at their distance. Along the base of its mid die fin are arranged a number of poison sacs that mean serious trouble to every living thing that comes in contact with them. The outer fins of this creature are long and feathery-looking. They add greatly to the strange appearance of the turkey fish and help it to keep on an even keel as it swims along in its supercilious manner.

Famous Lake Not Bottomless

The belief that Lake Ronkonkomo, on Long Island, is bottomless originated with the Indians. Subsequent soundings, however, found a uniform depth of 15 feet except in the center, where 90 to 70 feet and later 92 feet were measured. It is here that fresh water pours into the lake. Geologists who have studied the subject believe that this water comes from the northern states, passes under a stratum of rock underlying Connecticut to find an outlet in the porous bottom of Long Island.

Even Bees Bring Worry

Even the beekeeper faces epidemics which may cause him serious loss and certainly will cause him much worry. One disease in particular, world-wide in its spread, is that known as American foulbrood. When it is found in an apiary, even the strongest colonies being susceptible, the only course open is to burn the colony and thoroughly disinfect the hives.

Just Like Submarines

The larvae of the caddis fly build themselves cases of silk and pebbles, lined with silk, which serve them in the capacity of submarines. The nature of their craft, like that of the submarine, is such that they can rise and sink in the water at will.

OUR PROBLEM

By
LEONARD A. BARRETT

Whatever may be our attitude toward the security of western civilization, it is very certain that no drastic change will take place instantly. The verdict of history is that it has always taken a long time, centuries in some cases, for a civilization to become exterminated. The disintegration of a civilization is caused by certain forces which like the "mills of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly small." The very nature of the forces prove that they cannot easily be destroyed. Good is always more potent than evil; character more stable than immorality; and integrity more enduring than dishonesty. Civilization has a tremendous reserve in the moral order of her citizenship, and while this may be heavily drawn upon in a crisis, it is not readily exhausted.

The fear of a disintegrating civilization is due largely to the loss of faith in economic values. Many persons believe that when securities go to pieces and the value of money is discounted, the end is perilously near. The truth is that the stability of a civilization does not depend upon economic values. History informs us that many decadent civilizations were at their height economically when their crisis came. It is not an economic problem but very definitely a racial and moral problem, by common consent, western civilization is attributable to the culture and character of the white race, and our real problem is its enduring quality. If through intermarriage the moral and cultural fiber of the white race is allowed to deteriorate there is grave danger ahead. If our inherited belief in monogamy should be supplanted by a code of morals which undermines the sanctity of the home and denies to children the right to be well-born, we shall face a serious menace. If the original interpretation of culture should undermine the stability of America's educational and religious institutions, we would be sailing our ship of destiny dangerously near the rocks. How long will western civilization be able to overcome the subtle influence of some of these destructive forces? True, it is no cause for immediate alarm but the fact that the permanence of our civilization is not an economic but rather a racial and moral problem gives us cause for grave concern. Will the Caucasian or some other race ultimately dominate the world? © by Western Newspaper Union

CASH REGISTER

THE delicate clang of the cash register keys, accompanied by an insistent obligato of cash drawers opening and closing is music to the merchant's ears. What annoys most merchants today is the extremely slow tempo in which this commercial music is played on their cash registers. Today, as yesterday, accelerating the pace of your cash register is accomplished by tuning up on your advertising. The Avalanche reaches, by reason of its wide circulation, those purchasing markets that still make purchases, that still build sales for merchants, that still read the Avalanche for news of bargains, seasonal merchandise, innovations, and competitive prices—markets that will keep your cash registers busy. To set your cash registers clanging, get the people to buy from you by advertising in the Avalanche.

Call Phone 111 or drop us a card, and we will send a representative who will explain in detail the benefits derived from advertising in the Avalanche.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Wedding—A very pretty wedding occurred Wednesday, June 21, at 8 P. M. at the home of our well-known townsmen and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Olson. The bride was Miss Anna Olson and the bridegroom was Albert Roberts, both of whom are well known young people and have hosts of friends in this community. Rev. Humphrey Fleming performed the ceremony which made them one. Miss Anna L. Olson, cousin of the bride, and Lewis Roberts, brother of the groom, constituted the bridesmaid and groomsmen in the bridal service.

Born, Monday, June 26th to Mr. and Mrs. Esbern Hanson a 9 pound boy.

Will McCullough felt as though a little rest from overwork in Detroit would be good for him and is home for a few weeks to regain strength and weight.

Comrade Bell Smith met several of his old army comrades at the encampment last week. None but the men who wore the blue can tell just what that means.

Winward "the Picture Man" caught a pike in the river here the first of the week, which was almost three feet in length and weighed nine pounds and a quarter. A full meal for a small family.

Hubbard Head and his brother-in-law, W. Davis, of New York, were in town Monday.

A. C. Olson was taken seriously ill while at Gaylord last week and family notified, with some of whom Dr. Insley went to that village and brought him to Mercy Hospital, where he has practically recovered though his friends were decidedly anxious for several days.

Among the visitors in town this week we were glad to meet Miss Lizzie Cobb of Maple Forest, a former teacher in our school, but now a very successful farmer of that township, being the sole manager, and making many of the men farmers in that neighborhood ashamed for their lack of management.

Grayling, Mich., June 22.—Special. Oscar Schumann, traveling salesman for Barnhart Bros. and Spindler, type manufacturers of Chicago has purchased the Grayling Avalanche of Dr. Oscar Palmer who has published the paper for 30 years. Mr. Schumann will assume control July 1st. Dr. Palmer will devote his time to other interests. Mr. Schumann is well known throughout the state. He was for a number of years connected with the Hudson Gazette.

Frederic Flashes (23 Years Ago)
Mary and Ardie Wilber are visiting their grandmother Sholtz in Beaver Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Haslet are the happy parents of a baby boy. All doing well.

Our band certainly deserves much praise for the able manner they play. Having a new bandstand they entertain the public. It is appreciated.

Grandpa Brady returned from Wagon on the D. & C. road.

Our cement sidewalks are being laid. Our M. P. Church will have a new step.

Mrs. Frank Brown has a young son.

Mrs. Paddy Burke, mother and children are visiting in the southern part of the state.

While the delegates of the steel workers' union were gathered in Pittsburgh to vote on the threatened strike, President Roosevelt and his advisers brought forward a plan for an emergency law designed to avert the walkout. It was admitted a temporary expedient to give the President an effective agency for the consideration of industrial disputes arising during the life of the NRA.

Under the new bill's terms, boards selected by the President would be empowered to order and conduct an election, by a secret ballot, to determine by what person or persons or organizations employees may desire to be represented in negotiations under the collective bargaining features of the national recovery act.

The proposed board also would have the authority to order production of pertinent documents and witnesses to give testimony under oath, and their orders would be enforceable by any United States court of competent jurisdiction, similar to like privileges enjoyed by the federal trade commission. Vested with authority to prescribe their own rules and regulations, the boards would be armed with a penalty clause in the new law, setting $1,000 fine or a year imprisonment, or both, for violation of their decrees.

IN ITS second report to the President the national recovery review board, headed by Clarence Darrow, issued another blast at Administrator Johnson and in effect recommended his removal as head of the NRA. The board said Johnson had given the recovery program an un-American and dictatorial twist that handicapped it in the war on depression; that he has arbitrarily decreed life and death for industries; and that by arbitrary modifications of codes he has helped big business concerns to oppress their smaller competitors.

"The rule of the military commander is totally unsuited to the genius, habits, traditions, or psychology of the American people, and wholly ineffectual in meeting the present national crisis," the board concluded.

The second Darrow report covered the retail dry goods, warehousing, lumber, cement, retail food, boot and shoe, electrical manufacturing, bedding, petroleum, coffee, plumbing fixtures, embroidery, and hand pencil codes. Complaints against the warehousing, electrical manufacturing, and embroidery codes were dismissed as without foundation. But in the other codes the board claimed to find oppression of small businesses or consumers.

Besides suggesting the removal of Johnson, the board demanded outright that two other officials of the NRA be fired for misconduct. One is an assistant deputy administrator and the other is an employee of the lumber code authority, but the report suppressed both their names.

Indians Have Best Way For Using Rabbit Skins

There are a number of ways in which a rabbit skin blanket may be made, but those experienced in the art know that it pays to use the method that takes the longest and requires the most skill. This is a well known Indian method, according to a writer in the Detroit News.

The skins are taken from the animal with the usual cased knife and salt is rubbed over the whole of the flesh side while it is fresh. Before the skin is made into a blanket, it is stretched out on all sides.

The next step is to make a wooden frame with the strings tacked to the edges forming loops toward the center of the frame. One end of the fur strip is then attached to one corner of the frame, and the fur strip is pulled through the loops of string, each time by looping the rope over the string. For the next row, starting back, the fur is looped over the previous row of fur loops in a similar manner, and this is continued until the frame is filled with a flexible mesh of fur.

This loosely woven fur mesh is then stretched between layers of dutch canvas or any other quilting material and the resulting blanket probably cannot be beaten for warmth.

England Had Queen Who Never Visited Country

One queen of England who was never in England was Queen Berengaria, wife of Richard the Lionhearted. In the year 1190 Richard left England to take part in the third crusade. Berengaria, the daughter of Sancho VI of Navarre, was brought to him by his mother, Eleanor, while he and his troops were wintering in southern Italy, and the marriage took place in Cyprus on May 12, 1191. Later during the same year the queen joined the king at Acre on the coast of Palestine.

During Richard's imprisonment on the continent, Berengaria lived in Italy and France. Upon his release early in 1194 he proceeded to England, but remained there less than two months, after which he left for his foreign dominions and never returned. It is said he met his wife only once again, some time in 1194. They became estranged, and the queen's later years were spent chiefly at Felham in France, where she died about 1200, without ever having set foot on English soil.

Richard's death occurred in 1199 as a result of a wound received while besieging the castle of Chalus.

Guinea Pigs as Food

Guinea pigs are fit to eat, according to an authority. It is difficult to account for the somewhat prevalent notion that guinea pigs are fit for human food. Because of such prejudices, some people will not eat rabbits or squirrels and probably many others are kept from eating such excellent game as muskrat and prairie dogs. While guinea pigs are seldom eaten in the United States, their near relationship to rabbits and the fact that they are wholly vegetarian in habit should reassure any one who may entertain doubts about their fitness for the table. All the species of wild ravies are reckoned good game in South America. Rock doves, especially, are much hunted in parts of Brazil. Probably the small size of the domestic species is the chief cause for its neglect as a food animal, yet there are other highly esteemed game animals that furnish less meat than a guinea pig.

Robin Hood

How much truth there is in the tale about the medieval hero Robin Hood is unknown. Unsuccessful attempts have been made to prove his real existence. His career, as eventually developed, was all the details of authentic history. But there is nothing to be found concerning him beyond the content of the old ballads, of which there are some thirty. The oldest known to exist is assigned to about the year 1400. There were similar ones, however, because the fourteenth century "Piers Plowman" refers to "rymes of Robyn Hood." The time in which Robin Hood is supposed to have lived his life was during the reign of Richard I (1189-99). Some have attempted to show that the greatest outlaw of Sherwood Forest was simply an elf of Germanic folk tales.

"Life" Sentences

The term "life" sentence is a penitentiary has different meanings in different states. Some states have its own interpretation of the term, and some states merely make the word serve to the end of the day of the life, while others make it mean life in a California, for example, means a sentence of 30 years with the possibility of the convict getting out before the end of his natural life. In New York, on the other hand, the convict must not to Great Britain—another note concerning the war debt, bluntly rejecting the arguments of the British government, saying it was up to the debtor to offer propositions in such cases, and intimating that an arrangement for part payment in goods might be possible. However, when June 15, the day for the final payment, came, Uncle Sam received only $165,533, which was the full sum due from Finland. The larger debtors all gave notice of default, and so did most of the others. Czechoslovakia suggested a readjustment to permit it to pay in goods and services.

In Berlin the Reichsbank declared a six-months moratorium on its foreign obligations, those including the Dawes and Young loans. No cash transfers will be made by the bank from July 1 to December 31, 1934.

LARGELY through the efforts of Norman Davis, American ambassador at large, the European statesmen at Geneva were persuaded to drop their quarrelling and adopt a mild compromise resolution that prolonged the life of the disarmament conference. Great Britain and France agreed upon a plan, based on the return of Germany to the conference, and the aid of Italy was enlisted.

Premier Mussolini

It was arranged that Chancellor Hitler should go to Venice and that Premier Mussolini should fly to that city to confer with his fellow dictator, whom he had never met. Later Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, is expected to go to Rome for a talk with Mussolini in which the misunderstandings between their countries may be ironed out.

Mussolini and Hitler were to discuss European policies generally, and specifically, the German claims to full armament and the Austrian question, involving Nazi propaganda in the latter country.

This Anglo-French compromise was a diplomatic setback for Russia, but the Soviet republic countered with the announcement that it had been recognized by Czechoslovakia and Rumania. Recognition by Yugoslavia was expected to follow shortly. Maxim Litvinov's announcement was taken to mean that the Russians intend to go ahead with their policy of encircling Germany.

German papers agree on one chapter in relations between Soviet Russia and the powers of southeastern Europe has been opened. It is expected the next step probably will be the conclusion of a commercial agreement between the little entente and Moscow, one of the purposes being to minimize the effect of Soviet dumping of lumber and cereals in the entente nations. Non-aggression and mutual assistance pacts are said to be in the background.

A committee of the disarmament conference had under consideration the matter of guarantees for any convention which may be agreed upon; but when the question was submitted to the Japanese delegate he said his government could not consent to guarantees without reservations. Thereupon the Russian delegate said the Soviet government would not accept any such agreement that was not signed by Japan.

NRA celebrated its first birthday at a dinner given by Administrator Johnson to the 85 original employees of the organization who were at work before the recovery act was passed. Besides stenographers and office boys, these included a number of big-time business men. General Johnson also invited Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins and Senator Robert F. Wagner.

JENNY WREN'S BIG COUSIN

PETER RABBIT never forgets his surprise when Jenny Wren asked him one morning if he had seen anything of her big cousin. Peter hesitated. As a matter of fact he couldn't think of any big cousin of Jenny Wren. All the cousins Peter knew anything about were very near Jenny's own size. Now Jenny Wren is one of the most impatient small persons in the world. "Well, well, well, Peter, have you lost your tongue?" she chattered. "Can't you answer a simple question without taking all day about it? Have you seen anything of my cousin?"

"I saw him only yesterday on the Edge of the Old Pasture."

"If I am slow," replied Peter. "I'm just trying to think who your big cousin is. I guess, to be quite honest, I don't know him."

"Don't know him! Don't know him!" sputtered Jenny. "Of course you know him. You can't help but know him. I mean Brownie the Thrasher."

In his surprise, Peter fairly jumped right off the ground.

"What's that?" he exclaimed

"Since when was Brownie the Thrasher related to the Wren family?"

"Ever since there have been any Wrens and Thrashers," retorted Jenny. "Brownie belongs to one branch of the family and I belong to another, and that makes him my second cousin. It certainly is surprising how little some folks know."

"But I have always supposed he belonged to the Thrush family," protested Peter. "He certainly looks like a Thrush."

"Looking like one doesn't make him one," snapped Jenny. "By this time you ought to have learned that you never can judge anybody just by looks. It always makes me provoked to hear Brownie called the Brown Thrush. There isn't a drop of Thrush blood in him. But you haven't answered my question yet. Peter Rabbit, I want to know if he's here yet."

"Yes," said Peter. "I saw him yesterday on the edge of the Old Pasture. He was fussing about in the bushes and on the ground and jerking that long tail of his up and down and sideways as if he knew what to do with it. I've never seen anybody twitch his tail around the way he does."

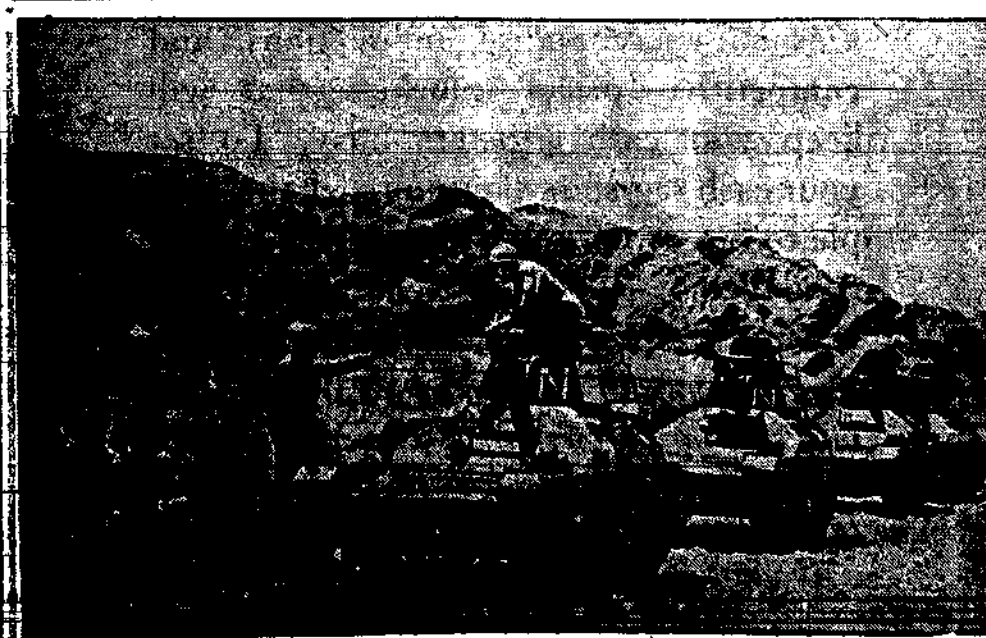

Jenny Wren giggled. "That's just like him," said she. "It is because he thrashes his tail around so much that he is called the Thrasher. I suppose he was wearing his new spring suit."

"I don't know whether or not it was new, but it was mighty good looking," replied Peter. "I just love that beautiful reddish brown of his back, wings and tail, and it certainly does set off his white and buff waistcoat with its dark streaks and spots. You must admit that anyone seeing him dressed so like the Thrushes is to be excused for thinking him a Thrush."

He Knows the Route by Heart

Ferocious Piranhas Are

Bulldog Fish of Amazon

Explorers annually bring back tales of the danger from the piranhas, and how a school of the fish will strip a man's meat from his bones in a remarkably short time if he falls into water infested by them.

These aquatic bulldogs have been introduced into aquaria as pets. The demand is not large, because they will make short work of other tank-mates. As a rule they will not tolerate even each other in confined quarters and will fight like hounds until one remains. However, this pugnacious attitude facilitates some aquarists. They like piranhas as some persons have a leaning toward tigers or rattlesnakes, says the New York Herald Tribune.

Twenty-nine species of piranhas have been classified from the Amazon drainage. Externally the various species are much alike except in size. Some species reach a length of 20 inches, but most of them average about 6 or 8 inches in adult stage. They are silvery, marked with touches of copper red.

In appearance the piranha shows his meanness. He has a stubby body and an underslung jaw set between two large eyes, which gives him a pugilistic cast. In their native habitat they are said to travel in schools, but the scent of blood brings them on the run, and hundreds gather within a few minutes.

If a man falls into a stream where piranhas are numerous, the chances are ten to one that he will be attacked within a short time. The fish, equipped with adhesive teeth, attack their victims by snapping small pieces. A single fish can take a small bite, but a large school strips a man in 20 minutes.

Electricity Gone Astray Spoils Water in Pipes

Stray electricity from the house wiring system or some other source has been found to discolor and to change the taste of water delivered to the consumer, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Frequently, such a condition will prevail in the house piping, yet be absent in the water in the street main.

An investigation by a water company tends to show that alternating current may change the quality of water. It has been established that direct current disintegrates water mains.

The wayward current arises from "promiscuous grounding." The primary function of the ground wire is safety: it is an avenue of escape for current diverted from its normal course by a leak or a defect in insulation. The simplest ground is the water pipe.

When the current, instead of dissipating itself harmlessly in the earth, continues its activity, the water and the pipe containing it are damaged. The stray current sometimes makes water blue, green or red and frequently creates disagreeable odors and metallic tastes suggestive of tin, lead or rust.

Tithes in the Past

Though tithes have been an issue in the Essex courts, harvest no longer brings so harassing a time for the country clergy as it used to do in the days when they were expected to take personal delivery of their tithes in actual crops. All manner of dodges were resorted to by unscrupulous farmers to avoid paying the parson his regulation share of the corn, and Samuel Wesley, at Epworth, once caught a man deliberately cutting the ears off tithes corn before handing it over. He seized the offender and marched him off to the judgment of the people. The general attitude of the rural population, then and later, was summed up in the old Harvest Home song: "We've cheated the parson, we'll cheat him again, for why should a blockhead have one in ten?"—Montreal Herald.

Ozone Protects Life

Our atmosphere, estimated to be about 500 miles deep, is made up of many elements. One of these, ozone (a form of oxygen) has attracted a lot of attention. If all this element were collected and compressed together, according to the Smithsonian Institution, it would make a layer around the earth but one-eighth inch thick. Yet, it is very important to life. This ozone belt extending some 40 miles above the earth filters the violet rays of the sun and allows only those necessary to life to pass—the short ones. Most of the long rays (destructive to life) are retained outside this belt. Some do penetrate, but their damage is quickly repaired by the short radiations. Pathfinder Magazine.

Life of Paper Money

There is a wide difference in the life and use of paper money, depending on the denomination. The smaller denominations, ones, twos and fives, stay out from six to nine months before they are worn out and retired. Higher denominations last longer, especially the notes which are in better—less—retirement. There is no way of telling how many times a note changes hands. One Federal Reserve note showed that $400 in marked money paid about $1,800 in bills in three days, which would indicate a turnover faster than once a day.

It's Great To Lose Fat And Feel Years Younger

We picked out this letter for fat folks to read today—read every word.

"I give you my full permission to print this letter. I used Kruschen Salts for reducing. I lost 30 lbs., since I have been taking it. I praise it to everybody I know that is fat. And I also feel years younger." Miss Edna Hunn, Algiers, La.

A jar of Kruschen Salts lasts 4 weeks and the cost is trifling. Are you taking Salts to reduce or to please your palate?

Just try Kruschen for a month—besides losing fat you'll gain in physical attractiveness—skin grows clear—eyes sparkle with health. Take half a teaspoonful in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—you feel cooler in hot weather—get it at Mac & Gidley's.

Cement That Will Float
The Portland Cement association says that there is a kind of concrete made that is lighter than water. The concrete is aerated by aluminum powder. The mixture is cement, sand, water and aluminum powder. Blocks made by this form will float.

"After all a vegetarian diet reads to a meat eater," says titian Tillie, "like a bunch of bolony."

WITTY KITTY

By NINA WILCOX PUTNAM

The girl whom says the fashion sense for curves has certainly taken the hungry look out of a lot of feminine eyes.

Dentistry for the Alligator

This dentist, Carl Link, would be out of luck if Pontchartrain Billy were to shut his mouth in the middle of his annual dental work. The one hundred and seventy-five-year-old patriarch of the Los Angeles Alligator farm has his valuable molars watched with more care than some humans and as a result will probably live to suck at more than one future generation of visitors.
